MRS. CORA HATCH, the spiritualist lecturer, has excited great interest in New York. by the manifestation of most extraordinary powers as a public speaker. She has maintained several theological discussions with some of the clergy who have been selected to debate selected topics with her. N. P. Willis, who is no convert to spiritualism. but who is a very competent and fastidious of these polemical discussions at the Taber- where before they had been sad and weary burdens. nacle, and gives the following account of the lady and her performance:

"Mrs. Hatch was introduced to the audionce a few minutes after we took our seats in at the Principal office, he writes: a pew of the Tabernacle—a delicate-featured blonde, of seventeen or eighteen, with flaxen ringlets falling over her shoulders, movecalm and deep, and eyes and fingers no way nervous. The subject being given to her by a gentleman in the crowd, ("whether man is a part of God,") she commenced with a prayer-and very curious it was, to see a ong-haired young woman standing alone in the pulpit, her face turned upward, her delicate bare arms raised in a clergyman's atti-tude of devotion, and a church full of peo-ple listening attentively white she prayed! Upon the platform in the rear of the pulpit

"medium" and an antagonistic clergymen who was present. No report can give any fair idea of the "spirit presence," however—I mean, of the self-possessed dignity. clearness, promptness and undeniable superiority of the female reasoner. Believe what you will of Mrs. Hatch's source of inspiration -whether she speaks her own thoughts or those of other spirits—it is as nearly super-natual eloquence as the most hesitating faith could reasonably require. I am, perhaps, from long study and practice, as good a judge of fitness in the use of language as most men; and, in a full hour of close attention, I could detect no word that could be altered for the better—none, indeed, (and this surprised me still more), which was not used with strict gidelity to its derivative meaning. The practiced scholarship which this last point usually requires, and the curiously unhesitating and confident fluency with which the beautiful language was delivered, was (critically) wonderful. It would have astonished me, in a stranger as nearly by the most accomplish an extempore speech by the most accomplish-ed orator in the world.

The argument was long, and, on the clergyman's part, a warm and surcastic one. The reverend gentleman, (what is commonly described as a "smart man," with high health, a remarkably large and high forehead, and a lawyer's subtlety of logic), alternated speeches with the "medium," for an hour and a half—leaving the audience. I thought, unanimously on the lady's side. But, what was very curion the lady's side. But, what was very currous and amusing was the difference of scope and dignity in the operation of the two minds. She looked at the subject through an open window, and he through a keyhole. She was severe, by the courage, skill and calm good temper with which she met his objections in the full face of their meaning only, disregarding their sneers; and he was severe, by twisting their sneers; and he was severe, by twisting their sneers; and he was severe. ing her words into constructions not intended, and by feathering the sarcasms thereupon with religious commonplaces. Instead of the sonorous obscurity and rhapsody of which the spiritualists are commonly accused, her argument was the directest and coolest possible specimen of fair and clear reasoning. If you recollect our conversations on this subject, my experience in spiritualism has been always unsatisfactory. The "Fox girls" and others have tried their spells upon me in vain. It has seemed to me that I was one of those to whom was not "given," (as the Bible says) "the discerning of spirits." But it would be very bigoted and blind not to see and acknowledge the wonderful intellectual will effect a cure when all other means have failed, and although a powerful remedy do not contain iron, calomel, antimony, or any other mineral.

Full directions accompanying each package. Price demonstration made by Mrs. Hatch; and how to explain it, with her age, habits and educashould at least look at it seriously—if only return mail. W. W. ROBERTS, Indianapolis, in obedience to the Scripture exhortation which closes the chapter on this very subject:

"Covet earnestly the best gifts."

PATENT IMPROVED PROCESS FOR MAKING ALL KINDS OF LIQUORS AND VINEGAR, Instantly, by the Use of LACOUR'S ESSENTIAL OILS. THESE OILS are obtained by Distillation, at the Chemical Laberatory, Parish of Jefferson, of PIERRE LACOUR, Author of Lacour's Chemical Analysis; Lacour's Chemical Manipulations, Lacour on the Manufacture Purchasers are particularly requested to return the flasks and obtain their money, if the Oil does not give perfect satisfaction.

LABOUR'S OIL OF COGNAC. Converts neutral spirit to a superior imitation of Imported Brandies, viz: Obard, Sazerac, Marcit Cognac, Poultney, Seignette, United Vineyard Proprietors, Castillion and London Dock Brandies. These liquors will have a full fruity flavor and a beautiful, sparkling color. Common Rectified Whisky will be changed by the use of the Oil of Cognac to New York Brandy, Pine Apple Brandy, Common Cognac Brandy, &c.

LACOUR'S OIL OF RYE. Changes Rectified Whisky to Monongahela Rye Whisky, Old Virginia Malt Whisky, Bourbon Whisky, &c., &c. OIL OF CEDRAT. Changes common Rectified Whisky to Old Irish Malt hisky, and a superior article of Scotch Whisky.

OIL OF PEACH, Changes common Whisky to Virginia Peach Brandy, &c. Oil of Peach and Oil of Cognac will convert com-mon Whisky to Apple Brandy. OIL OF GIN, Converts the poorest Whisky to Holland Gin, Schnei-dam Schnapps, Rose Gin, Swan Gin, English Gin, &c. LACOUR'S CONCENTRATED ACID.

Will, in five hours after being mixed, change five gallons of good Vinegar and twenty-five gallons of water to thirty gallons of the most acid Vinegar that can be found in the market. By the use of Lacour's Concentrated Acid, Vinegar can be made for one dollar and sixty cents per burrel. Lacour's Oils require no preparation—only pour the Oil into the Whisky, and shake well. The Liquors Oil into the Whisky, and shake well. The Liquors thus made will have a true natural aroma, a full, rich, oily taste; a beautiful transparent color and a fine bead. Lacour's Oils exert three distinct properties in converting common Whisky to Brandy, Gin, &c. The first property combines with and subsides in the form of fisculent particles the whole of the grain oil, (Amylic Alcohol.) The Whisky is thus depressed of that peculiar irritating and burning taste, and becomes a neutral spirit. The second property consists in an oily mucliliaginous taste imparted to the liquor, which renders it mellow; and imparts an appearance of great age. The third property is exhibited in the rich vinous nutty odor that is imparted to the liquor, which renders distinction from the genuine brands impossible.

These Oils are put up in quart flasks; each flask contains sufficient oil for making three hundred galions of liquor. Full and comprehensive directions accompany the bottles.

PRICE, 82 PER ROTTLE.

PRICE, $2 PER BOTTLE. For sale at the corner of St. Charles and Poydras streets.
